

Sawsan Abuhammad, PhD, RN
SIENNA Board of Director

Dr. Sawsan Abuhammad holds the PhD degree in Maternal and Child health Nursing from the College of Nursing at the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee, Wisconsin USA, and the BSc in Nursing from the Faculty of Nursing at Jordan University of Science and Technology, Jordan. She is a fellow of the Responsible Conduct of Research Fellowship- a Joint International Degree at University of California/USA, and Jordan University of Science and Technology, Jordan. She is an associate professor in Maternal and Child Health at Jordan University of Science and Technology, Jordan.

She has published about 130 publications in distinguished international, scientific, peer-reviewed, indexed and refereed journals or international conferences. Currently, she has a Scopus h index of 19 (total citations: 1450), which is among the highest in the region in the fields of Nursing. She was recognized as part of 2% of scientists in the world according to Stanford list. Her research focuses are in research ethics and responsible research conduct, emergency and pandemic research (such as COVID-19), maternal and child health, education. Dr. Abuhammad has supervised over 15 master's candidates. She is a member of several national and international scientific and professional societies. She is also a reviewer for more than 50 national, regional, and international Journals, funding agencies, scientific societies, and an evaluator for a number of scientific awards. Dr. Abuhammad has also served as a consultant for a number of regional and international contract research organizations, higher education, quality assurance and accreditation agencies.

Dr. Abuhammad was able to get grant funds from national and international organizations including multiple successful projects from the Scientific Research Funds/Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research, Jordan, Erasmus Plus, Erasmus, and DAAD. She conducted many workshops in many universities such as Al-albait, the Hashemite University, and Jordan University. Dr. Abuhammad holds Training of Trainee (TOT) from UK and conducted more than 20 workshops regarding sexual health, maternal health, and integrity of research with supervision of Royal Society and Jordan Nursing Council.